

Centre for Canadian Studies
Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli – 620 024
Lecture Series 2022

Lecture Series 2022 was organised by the Centre for Canadian Studies from 22-03-2022 to 30-03-2022 through hybrid mode via Google platform at Tagore Hall, Department of English, Bharathidasan University. Two among the six lectures were in offline mode while the rest of the lectures were online, thus, making this lecture series a Hybrid Lecture series.

On 22 March 2022, Dr. Benet D E, Associate Professor of English, National College, Trichy delivered the first lecture of the series physically on “Food and Literature” at 03:30 pm. He traced the significance of the presence of Food references in literature and elucidated politics and aesthetics involved in food culture.

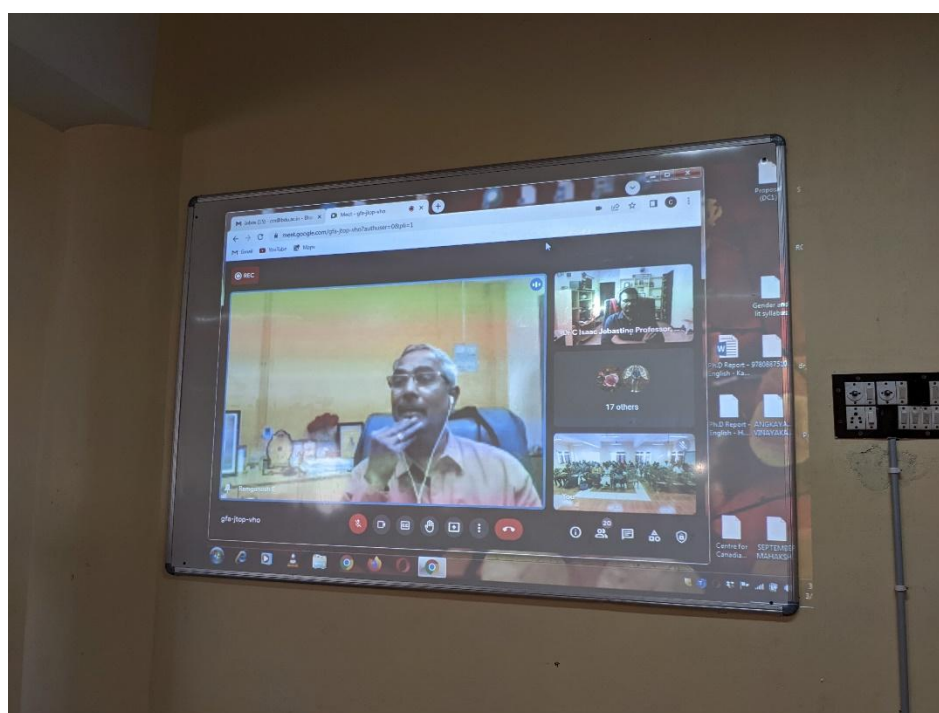

On 23 March 2022, Dr. Sathyaraj Venkatesan, Associate Professor of English, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, National Institute of Technology, Trichy, delivered a lecture titled “An Introduction to Medical Humanities” at 02:30 pm. He introduced the term medical humanities, locating it among the modern paradigm towards the better collaboration of science and humanities.

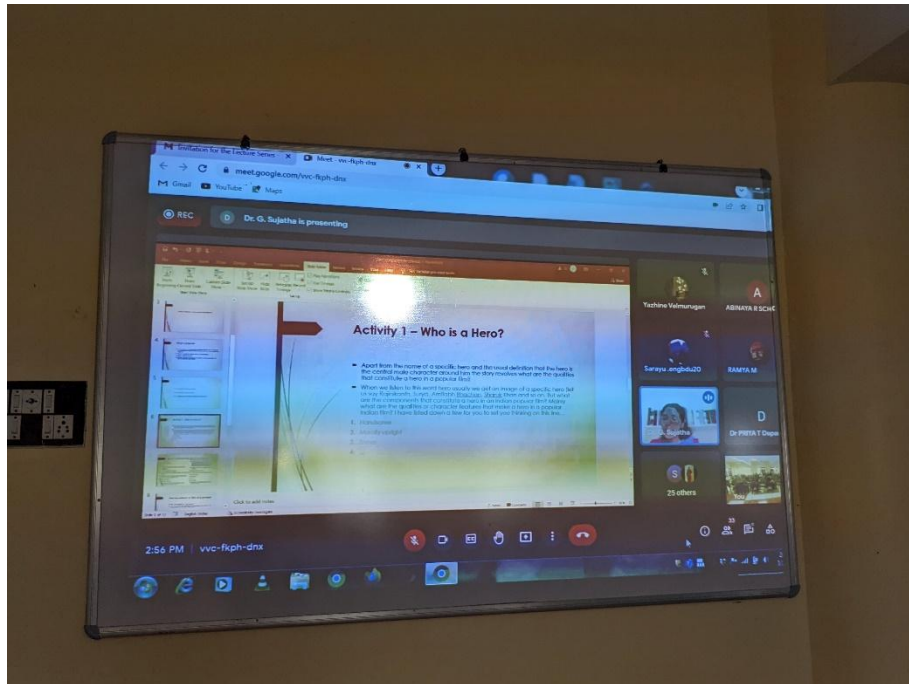

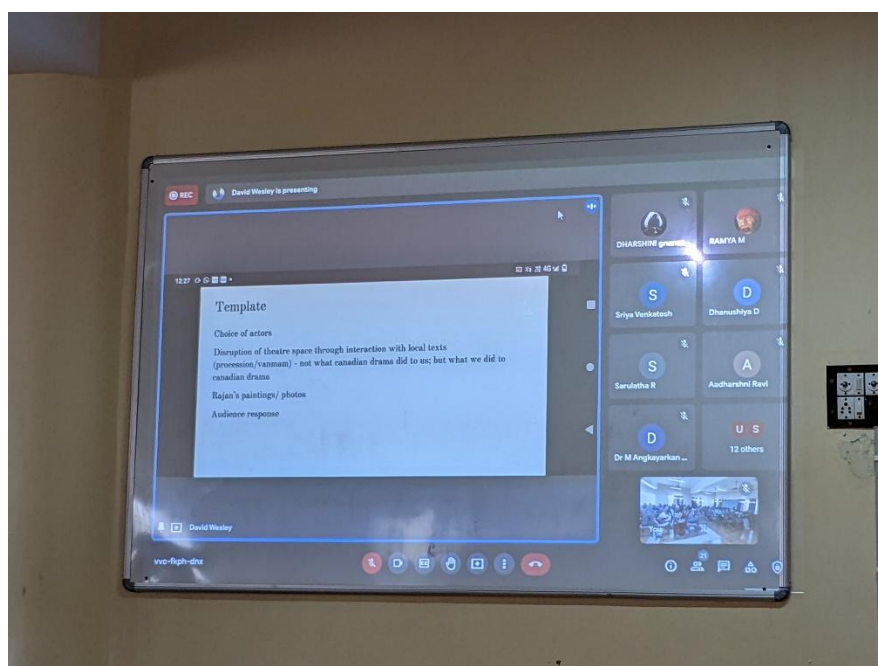

On 25 March 2022, Dr. E. Ramganes, Professor, Department of Educational Technology, Bharathidasan University, Trichy delivered a lecture entitled “Open Education Resources in Higher Education” at 03:45 pm. He presented the definition of OERs and its significance in the academia. He also introduced various OERs to the students towards the understanding and application.

On 28 March 2022, Dr. G. Sujatha, Assistant Professor of English, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Indian Institute of Technology, Palkad, delivered the lecture at 02:30 pm entitled “Why Study Popular Cinema?”. She spoke on the significance of understanding the popular cinema as they play an enormous role in cultural representation and construction of individuals and society.

On 29 March 2022, Dr. David Wesley, Assistant Professor of English, Madras Christian College, Chennai, delivered a lecture titled “Performing Canadian Drama in India” at 11:30 am. He presented the practical difficulties and their strategic solutions involved in performance studies. He provided numerous facets of performing a drama and assigned work for I M.A students of the Department for staging Canadian Plays during the academic year 2022-23 at the Centre for Canadian Studies, Bharathidasan University.

On 30 March 2022, Dr. S. Senthilnathan, Director, UGC-HRDC and Professor, Department of Educational Technology, Bharathidasan University, Trichy, delivered a lecture on the title “Interactive English Language Learning and Teaching: Techno-Pedagogical Perspectives” at 11:30 am at the centre in offline mode. He interacted with the students and encouraged them to learn the language through games. The lecture was participatory in nature. He presented numerous ways of using technology in understanding English language learning and teaching.

