The Department of Biomedical Science organized a Teachers Day celebration on 9th September 2025 in the BMS Seminar Hall. The event commenced at 2:15 PM with a formal welcome address, extending greetings to the esteemed faculty members, research scholars and fellow students.

The celebration began with students delivering thoughtful speeches, that emphasized the importance of teachers as mentors, guides, and lifelong sources of inspiration. These speeches reflected the respect and gratitude that students hold for their teachers and highlighted the indispensable role teachers play in shaping young minds and fostering personal as well as academic growth.

As a token of appreciation, gifts were distributed to all staff members. This gesture symbolized the love and respect of the students toward their teachers, acknowledging their dedication, patience, and continuous efforts in nurturing the student community.

To make the occasion more engaging, interactive activities were conducted. The first activity required each teacher to pick a slip of paper containing two questions related to their past and professional experiences. Teachers shared their personal anecdotes and reflections, which not only brought smiles but also allowed students to see a more personal and inspiring side of their mentors. This interactive session created a nostalgic and heartfelt atmosphere.

Another activity paired teachers together for a lighthearted game. One member of each pair wore headphones with music playing, while their partner was shown a phrase to convey through lip movements. The task was for the teacher with the headphones to correctly guess the phrase. This activity created a cheerful and lively environment, generating much laughter and enjoyment among both teachers and students.

The program was marked by smooth coordination, creativity, and enthusiastic participation from students, which contributed to its overall success. The celebration provided a platform for students to express their heartfelt gratitude and for teachers to enjoy a relaxed and joyful atmosphere outside the classroom setting.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks, acknowledging the contribution of the faculty members, the organizing committee, and all participants.
